Museum Notes.

"Pond Life" is the subject of a lecture to be given at the Fairbanks Museum on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, by Dr. H. L. Perkins of the University of Vermont. Dr. Perkins has made a specialty of this subject for some years, and his lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides of many specimens prepared by himself. The lecture, to which the public is cordially invited, will be of much interest to all nature lovers, as well as to the young people of the public schools. Dr. Perkins will also conduct a nature walk, having as an object some study of insect and animal life in still water. People wishing to go on the walk may learn all particulars by applying at the Museum.

That the educational work of the Museum is extending beyond the limits of our town is evidenced by the fact that the school directors in various parts of the state are availing themselves of the opportunities which it affords in the line of nature study. The director of the museum was invited to speak to the teachers of Brandon last week on this important topic. Tuesday evening she gave a brief talk on "Trees in the Spring" at the meeting of the Brandon Nature club. Wednesday, Miss Griffin visited the graded schools of the town, giving lessons on germination in each room, and addressed the teachers and high school pupils on "How to Study Birds." Much interest in nature studies was shown by pupils, teachers and school officials.

Following are the new bird arrivals: April 24, rusty blackbird, Savannah sparrow, ruby-crowned kinglet, hermit crow, ruffed grouse, marsh wren; April 30, myrtle warbler; May 1, brown creeper, white-bellied swallow; May 2, red-shouldered hawk, wild ducks.

The flowers now shown on the table at the left of the entrance are dandelion, April 30; sweet white violet, hepatica, bloodroot, trailing arbutus, poplar, willow, American elm, alder and winokey. May 1, spring beauty, coltsfoot, great spurred or Selkirk's violet, wake robin and adder's tongue, May 2.
